News & Information Newsletter

Dear Kingsbury,

Here's the latest on what's going on in Kingsbury!

Full Wolf Moon

The first full moon of the new year rises this Thursday, January 28th.

In Native American and early Colonial times, the Full Moon for January was often called the Full Wolf Moon.

It appeared when wolves howled in hunger outside the villages.

Traditionally, the January Moon is also known as the Old Moon (oddly enough since it is the first full moon of the new year) or the Moon After Yule.

To some Native American tribes, this was the Snow Moon, but most applied that name to the next Full Moon, in February.

MOON FOLKLORE:

A bright first Moon promises rain and a bountiful harvest; a red-tinted Moon means a dry year.

A growing Moon and a flowing tide are lucky times to marry.

A halo around the Moon predicts wet or stormy weather.

Every full moon has gone by many names. Some of the names for the January full moon are:

Sioux - Moon When Wolves Run Together Shawnee - The Severe Moon Mohawk - Moon Of The Big Cold Hopi - Moon of Life At It's Height

Cree - Moon When the Old Fellow Spreads the Brush

Murphy Earns Medal Of Honor

2 of 6 11/23/2021, 12:41 PM

This week in history, on January 26th, 1945, Texas native Audie Murphy, the most-decorated soldier in United States history, earned the Medal of Honor by single-handedly repelling a German attack.

In 1945, the Colmar Pocket in France, 850 square miles in the Vosges Mountains, had been held by German troops since November 1944. On January 14, 1945, Murphy rejoined his platoon (after recovering from being shot in the hip by a German sniper), which had been moved to the Colmar area in December. He moved with the 3rd Division on January 24th to the town of Holtzwihr, where they faced a strong German counterattack. He was wounded in both legs, for which he received a second Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster for his Purple Heart. As the company awaited reinforcements on January 26th, he was made commander of Company B.

That day, the Germans scored a direct hit on an M10 tank destroyer, setting it alight, forcing the crew to abandon it. Murphy ordered his men to retreat to positions in the woods, remaining alone at his post, shooting his M1 carbine and directing artillery fire via his field radio while the Germans aimed fire directly at his position. Murphy mounted the abandoned, burning tank destroyer and began firing its .50 caliber machine gun at the advancing Germans, killing a squad crawling through a ditch towards him.

For an hour, Murphy stood on the flaming tank destroyer returning German fire from foot soldiers and advancing tanks, killing or wounding 50 Germans. He sustained a leg wound during his stand, and stopped only after he ran out of ammunition. Murphy rejoined his men, disregarding his own injury, and led them back to repel the Germans. He insisted on remaining with his men while his wounds were treated.

During World War II. Murphy received thirty-three awards, citations, and decorations. After the war he starred in numerous movies, wrote country-and-western songs, and pursued other business interests. Murphy was killed in an airplane crash in 1971 and was buried near the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.
